

KM PRODUCT REVIEW Alfresco

- John Newton (co-founder of Documentum) and John Powell (a former COO of Business Objects) founded Alfresco Software, Inc. in 2005.
- Alfresco empowers various organizations across 190+ countries. Some key enterprises include Cisco and Nasa
- Alfresco ECM is available both as free version and licensed version

- Alfresco ECM has five main capabilities: Document Management, Document Scanning and Capture, Enterprise Collaboration, Information Governance, and Intelligence and Analytics.
- Faster content delivery across multiple touchpoints
- Easy integration with any web service platform.
- Scalability
- Security features

About

Functionalities

Improvements

Our View

- Search functionality needs to be evolved
- Metadata capabilities need to be improved
- UI can be made more user friendly
- Pricing strategy may drive away users from free license

- While Alfresco is an ECM, the concept of ECM has moved ahead of a plain vanilla ECM.
- While Alfresco ECM supports collaboration and sharing, these features are still not comparable with the current innovations
- Dependency on third party solutions should be brought down
- Focus on enabling digital workplace related features